

LIME O

Welcome to LEMUN!

---

By Annabelle Jung

LEMUN 2019 is around the corner. Delegates have been briefed, newspaper templates have been printed and donuts have been ordered. I can smell the sour sweet aroma from all this lemon in the air. However, this intriguing smell did not waft in on its own.

Students from the Stedelijk Gymnasium Leiden have been working hard on organising Lemun 2019. The first preparations started almost a year ago, including deciding on the theme 'Another Brick in the Wall'. Based on this theme, we encourage everyone to think out of the box and break through boundaries that have been set for them.

We are excited to open up our school for such a good cause; breaking down that too structured wall and letting everyone's creativity flow. We, as press team, have let our creativity flow as well. Because when life gives us lemons, we make LIMEade! Every day of the conference we will be publishing a newspaper. This will not only keep you up to date with the latest news, it will hopefully give you some comic relief. We will also be posting on our social media platforms!

This year my deputy, Andrea Fortuin, and I have thought of a new concept. In each newspaper issue we will add a LIMERick. At last, Lemun is not only about (sour) fruitful debate, but also a bit about wordplay.

With this, I invite everyone involved to contribute in their own way to once again make Lemun a huge success!

Party preparations

By Andrea Fortuin

On Saturday is the LEMUN party, and as every year, we have an amazing theme ready for you: American High School. Get ready to dig up your finest prom dresses, capri pants, or Wildcats jerseys! As most of you know, the best outfits will be featured in the dressing contest, so make sure to dress to impress to get on the LIME 3 cover. Details about the when- and whereabouts of the party are available on www.lemun.org, @leidenmun on Instagram, and will be put in LIME 2 as well, so stay tuned!

LIMERick

There once was a paper named LIME,
It needed some flavour and rhyme,
So we thought of a pun,
Which was simple and fun,
A finishing touch right on time!
